SCOTT SEPPER AT ATARI COMPUTER CAMP

SUMMER CAMP WAS NEVER LIKE THIS...

by T.L. Lawrence

July 1 — August 1 Scott Sepper attended one of 7 Atari camps around the country. This one was in Greenfield, Massachusetts. For $1690 he got room and board, 8-10 hours a day on an Atari 800 computer, sports activities and workshops. The camp has shorter sessions than a month, and longer ones — all summer if your fingers and your wallet can take the beating.

There were 3 rooms of 20 computers each and at times the rooms overflowed with 'hackers.' The camp is for 10-16 year olds — Scott is 16 — but there were a few 18 year olds. There were more boys than girls at Scott's camp, but he said that overall it's about even. The counselors were 19 and up.

A junior at Naples High, Scott knows Basic and a little bit of Assembler and Machine languages. He writes many of his own games. He was interviewed at camp to find out which level of instruction he needed. Out of Pilot (lowest), Beginning Basic, Regular Basic, Advanced Basic and Independent Advanced, Scott placed Independent Advanced. In that class you mainly work on your own projects.

Scott plans on going to college to study computers, naturally. He made a lot of friends at camp and phones them frequently. He hopes to go to computer camp again next year, if he can save enough money to pay for camp (and his phone bills...)

Scott owns an 800 and prefers it over any other computer because it's so flexible. The latest ones come packed with 48K as opposed to 64K on other computers. But you can unscrew the top and take out the ROM and RAM cards and put in your own, increasing memory up to 192K! Also it has 2 cartridge slots. The left one accepts all of the games and the language carts, but the right one accepts only 3 carts. One of the carts helps basic language for the 800, the 2nd cart refines the 1st, while the 3rd is capable of copying 10 carts onto 1 disk! But Atari has discontinued manufacture of the 800. Instead they are bringing out new computer models that aren't as flexible.

8 PAGES THIS MONTH!

Thanks in large part to our new Advertising Manager Pilar Cortez, Kids News took in enough money this month to publish 8 pages instead of the usual 4. Thanks, Pilar, for a job well done.

JERRY REED!

by Missy Cheaney

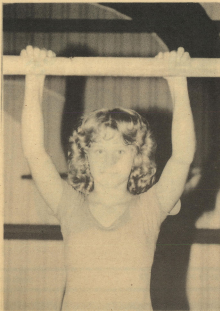

During a break at the Maxwell House 'Give 'Em a Hand' Concert on August 26 at the Lee Civic Center in Ft. Myers, I interviewed one of today's greatest country singers and movie stars — Jerry Reed. As I waited outside for Mr. Reed, I noticed his name wasn't printed on the bus like most stars, but could only be identified by the words "Night Shift." I could see him inside, sitting down and freshly showered. Once inside, he appeared very nice but tired — it was about 11:30 p.m. After introducing myself, we started the interview:

- Q. If you could be anywhere in the world, where would you be?
A. Right here — I'm having alot of fun!
Q. Has there ever been a time when you felt like just quitting show business?
A. Many, many, many times, because I had the blues, or actually, the lack of business blues!
Q. What do you like to do when you're not performing?
A. Work, fish, play golf, mostly work.
Q. What advice would you give kids today?
A. Learn how to work.

- Q. When did you first start performing?
A. When I was 13, I was single A ball, when I was 16 I was singing professionally; and when I was 17 I was recording for Capitol Records.
Q. What's it like making a movie?
A. Long, hard, and very interesting. It's a great art form. I would tell all kids to consider working in it, not necessarily acting, but behind the scenes, camera crew, etc. It's really fun.
Q. Did you ever sing a song that reminded you of yourself?
A. Not, never. Hmmm, I've really never thought about that before. I'm gonna have to think about that.

- Q. What song is your favorite that you sing?
A. When you talk about songs, it's like talking about which younger you like best, or which leg you like best, your right or your left — you just can't pick a favorite.
Q. Which movie have you done that you liked best?
A. "Gator," it was the funnest.
Q. Who's your favorite entertainer?
A. Sammy Davis, Jr. He's the greatest entertainer. Ain't no one come after you like Sammy Davis does!
Q. How many times have you been interviewed?
A. Oh, about 8,000 times. Why don't you ask me what I think about kids?
Q. OK. What do you think about kids?
A. If it weren't for kids, I would consider committing suicide. I love 'em, they've made me what I am.

DEAR KIDS NEWS

Dear Kids News Staff —

I am working on a very special Boy Scout award called the Hornaday Award. It can be a certificate, a badge, a bronze medal or a silver medal for outstanding work in conservation. I want to try for one of the six silver awards given nationally each year. To do this, I need to earn eight nature Merit Badges, design and carry out 4 special conservation projects and inform the public of conservation issues and practices.

This last one is where your newspaper could help. Would you be willing to run a monthly column maybe called "Conservation News" or something like that? I have written 4 sample articles for 4 possible months but I would probably want to change them if something like last year's Everglades deer kill came up. Please read them and if you think they would be alright, print one each month.

Your newspaper, with my articles, will be submitted to the national committee (I hope) if I become a candidate.

Hoping we can help each other — Charlie Tripp.

Dear Charlie — we love the idea and will be glad to print your articles. Here's the first. And good luck.

B.S.A.

INJURED WILD ANIMALS

by Charlie Tripp

You are walking home from school when suddenly you find an injured or sick animal. Feeling sorry for it you want to pick it up to see where he is hurt and what you can do to help. BUT STOP!!!

Instead of picking him up, first call the Humane Society or the people at Big Cypress Animal Rescue League for advice. One reason is that many mammals have rabies. When you handle them, they are likely to become frightened and bite or scratch you. If this happens, you might have to get 21 painful rabies shots in your stomach.

Another problem is that many animals have parasites. Parasites on animals are things like fleas, lice and ticks. These parasites will soon be living on you causing bites and illness.

Sometimes the disease the animal is suffering from can be caught by you or even a healthy animal can give you diseases because they are carriers.

So, call for advice before you handle an injured wild animal so you do not become hurt or sick trying to help it.

Also remember that baby animals that may seem to be lost or abandoned usually are not. Their mother is somewhere near and if you leave it alone she will take care of it.

Michele Cress is a good gymnast. She is 11 years old and is in 7th grade at Golden Gate Middle School. Michelle is in class 4 at a local gymnastic center.

Her favorite events are floor and vault. She has won three 2nd place ribbons, one 4th place ribbon, one 6th place ribbon and a trophy for "Most Outstanding."

VIDEO REVIEW: COLECO'S ADAM

by T.L. Lawrence

Waiting for the Coleco Super Game Module? Wait no more — they shelled it! Their new plan is for the Adam Computer — a $400 add-on to your Colecovision. It will accept all of the original super games. And if you don't own Colecovision, but would still like the Adam, Coleco plans a $600 stand alone computer.

How good is it? For $600 (or $400), you get the keyboard, printer, word processor, 80K of memory (expandable to 144K) and the Buck Rogers Super Game. Sounds too good to be true? It's scheduled for September distribution, so we should know soon.

A note for Atari enthusiasts — get the real dirt from the expert at Naples Video Center on the fascinating reasons why you can sell your Atari 800 next year and make a BIG profit!

I KNOW RAINBOWS WELL. NOW...

by Sandy Knight

I know rainbows well, now, for I see one every day.
As soon as you came along, all the storm clouds went away.
You brightened up my world, and gave me a brand new start.
And ever since I met you, I knew I loved you with all my heart.
The sun comes up for ME, now, and this I know is true, for I had never seen it until I looked at you.

SOMETIMES, MY FRIEND

by Tara Lanius

Sometimes I'm lonely and I cry
Sometimes I wish that I could die
When I laugh it's so dishonest
I never have been very modest
I don't know how to take a joke
I do not show when my heart is broke
Sometimes I laugh, sometimes I cry
Sometimes I have a heavy sigh
Sometimes I hope, sometimes I dream
Sometimes I feel I want to scream
Sometimes I want it all to end and that's when I know you are my friend.

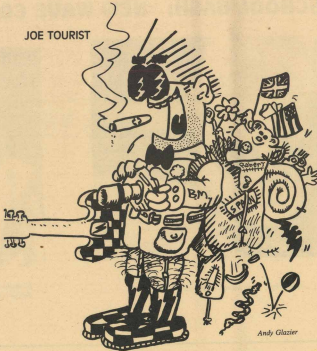

KN GETS TROPHY IN JULY 4TH PARADE

Kids News is pleased to announce that your favorite monthly newspaper received an honorable mention trophy for the most unique decoration in the 4th of July parade. The theme was "America Still Free in '83." The Kids News car was completely covered with Kids News issues (except for the windows) and the words "Freedom of the Press" was printed on both sides of the car. The windshield wipers had "Kids News" banners attached to them, and were flipped out away from the windshield and turned on. We handed out the July issue of Kids News along the parade route, and had a great time. Thank you to the Collier County Veterans' Organization.

SUMMER IN PARIS

by Andrew Glazier

This past summer I spent a week in Paris. I saw the Champs-Elysees (a famous street), the Palace at Versailles and Napoleon's Tomb. The best part of the week was Bastille Day, which is like our fourth of July.

There were military parades and fireworks at night. The crowds were unbelievable. Many people were in the trees to get a better view. There were vendors and balloons and as I walked along, I stopped to have a cartoon drawn. It was very good! Later we saw fireworks along the Seine River by the Eiffel Tower.

The following night I went to a free anti-nuclear concert with Joan Baez. She sang in the same square where the guillotine once stood. After the concert the police had trouble with the crowds. Many gates were torn down as the people charged toward the subway.

Paris is one of the few cities I would enjoy living in as well as visiting.

HATE TO COOK? GOOD NEWS!

Can you open your own store with the empty grocery bags your mom has stored in the closet and under the sink? Well, not for long. Some day soon, you'll bring home a year's supply of groceries in a sheet about the size of Kids News and less than an inch thick!

The food sheet would not require any cooking and would last indefinitely. Scientists in Japan have developed a thin film that looks like Saran Wrap, tastes like real food and melts in your mouth.

We could do away with the entire kitchen and make a video game/computer room instead!

ST. JUDE'S BIKE-A-THON

by Sonja Czaparo

The St. Jude's Second Annual Bike-A-Thon will be held October 8, 1993 at Gulfview Middle School, 8 a.m.-12 noon. The idea of the bike-a-thon is to collect as much money as you can. It's for the fight against cancer, and for all ages, and sponsored by the Naples Bike Shop. The more money you collect, the more chances you have of saving a child's life. Prizes go to top riders. For more information, contact Joe Randazzo at 774-4849.

THE YMCA & HOBO CAMP

by Sonja Craparo

Recently I was at the YMCA and I got an interview with Sherri Diehl, camp program director for the summer day camp. Sherri has been with the YMCA for a year and she says she likes it. Day camp gets as many as 125 children or more a week.

The YMCA has been around since 1844. It serves primarily youth. The very first YMCA was in England and then came to the USA. The YMCA in Naples opened in 1974. The tennis court opened in 1981. The YMCA has an academic pre-school program for ages 3-5 with transportation. They have an after school club program for elementary school students and transportation. Summer Day and Hobo Camp feature such activities as canoeing, arts and crafts, field games, gymnastics, swimming and various field trips which are fun and educational.

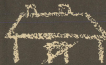

Thank you Sherri for letting me talk to you.

SUMMER FUN!

by Sonja Craparo

The Y.M.C.A. Hobo camp session 2 was very fun and exciting. We went such places as: Tin City Queen, Chuck E. Cheese, bowling, Everglades Wonder Gardens, Naples Movie Time First Baptist Church, Aquaslide, and to a park, and to the beach. It was a lot of fun. It's open to elementary students grades 1 through 5. It's a lot of fun and it's worth it.

NARDA CORTEZ MEMORIAL AWARD

KIDS NEWS needs your nominations for courage, bravery, or community service deserving of an award.

December, 1982, Kids News established the Narda Cortez Memorial Award. Narda was the victim in a drunk driving fatality. But before she was struck, she pushed her younger brother out of the way of the oncoming car. He escaped with only minor cuts and bruises.

Narda gave the ultimate gift and it is in her memory that we would like to recognize each year, a Collier County resident 18 or under for an act or acts of unselfishness or courage.

Nominations will be accepted in the mail between now and December 1. Please give the name, address and phone number of your nomination, and a brief description of why you feel they should receive this award. Also enclose your name, address and phone number. Send to: Kids News, P.O. Box 45, Naples, FL 33939.

The nomination chosen will receive a cash award. The person who nominates the award winner will also receive a lesser amount. If more than one person nominated the winner, the 1st one received will get the lesser award.

MUSIC REVIEW: LOVERBOY

by Pilar Cortez

Since 1980 the group Loverboy has been hitting the charts. The group, originally from Canada, started with the name when lead guitarist Paul Sean invented it after remembering the nickname his mother always called him. From there he met Mike Reno, The head singer. Then came Matthew Frenette, drummer, following Doug Johnson, keyboards and Scott Smith, bass guitarist.

Loverboy is not new wave or punk, but just a rock band who keeps things simple.

Once signed with CBS Records, they turned out their first album. The group was getting public attention. Their following album was "Get Lucky" with many familiar tunes such as "When It's Over," "Lucky Ones," "Working for the Weekend." The payoff has been seven million albums sold and five hit singles. Their newly released album is called "Keeping it Up," with the single "Hot Girls in Love."

RECIPE: CRACKER TOWER

by Jenny Prue

To build a cracker tower, all you need are round crackers and cheese and salami and pineapple. Put a piece of cheese on a cracker, then add a salami, cracker, pineapple, and cracker again and so on. Keep stacking this way until the tower is as high as you want it.

This cracker tower is a great nibbling treat when you're reading or watching TV with your friends. Just start munching at the top and work your way down. And watch your friends smile!

FLYING HIGH WITH C.A.P.

by Jenny Prue

If you are 13 years old or older and a citizen or permanent resident of the United States and are interested in helping people, learning about planes, or learning about our space program, maybe the Civil Air Patrol's for you!

Recently I interviewed Ira W. Wiggins, M.D. retired, who is now safety officer for the Civil Air Patrol. I asked about the organization which was first organized in December 1941 and then organized in its present form in 1948. The Civil Air Patrol was started because there was a need for civilian involvement in several things, such as searching for lost or downed airplanes, lost boats or boats in distress, and helping in disasters like hurricanes and earthquakes. C.A.P. is also involved in training individuals to take positions of leadership, both in C.A.P. and in other jobs that you may get.

The members of the Air Patrol have meetings once a week in the evenings, they have duties to handle in emergencies and they teach others when they are qualified. Members are guaranteed six 1/2 hour lessons in the club plane to train as scanners, and after training may ride in the plane on sundown patrols if a seat is available and the weight is not exceeded (570 pounds). There are also courses in aerospace education where you learn about astronauts and how they live and eat and about our solar system, and about aircraft, rockets and satellites. C.A.P. members may go to other parts of Florida to attend other meetings, and some members learn to fly in the club plane, and there are scholarships available for aerospace education and learning to fly.

The Civil Air Patrol is an auxiliary of the U.S. Air Force and authorized to wear the regulation Air Force uniform with the addition of the C.A.P. patch. There are about 65 active members of the Civil Air Patrol. The entrance fee is $25 and uniforms, not mandatory, are about $60.

So if you think the C.A.P. may have something for you, just go to any of their meetings on Thursdays between 7 and 9 p.m. at the C.A.P. building, 360 Aviation Drive, Naples.

MOVIE REVIEWS

Erik Kellar

by Erik Kellar

"Staying Alive" was not very good, what I heard of it because of all the girls whistling. I was lucky to get a seat. John Travolta was bad! There are no words to tell how bad it was.

"Jaws 3 D" was great, except for one problem, I could see better with my glasses off. It was much gorier than the other 2 films. There's another thing — remember those two kids in the first 2 movies — they are in the 3rd movie.

MISS SHRINE PAGEANT

by Missy Cheaney

As the lights dimmed in the Barron Collier High auditorium, the audience quickly silenced to see who would compete for the title of Miss Naples Shrine, 1983.

Tamara Paquette. This was her first pageant.

And the Naples Shrine Queen, 1983, is Miss Tamara Paquette. Tamara is 16 and attends Barron Collier High. She is 5'4" tall, weighs 120 pounds and has blonde hair and blue eyes. When asked what she first thought when they announced her as the winner, Tamara replied, "I drew a complete blank. I didn't even know how to work my feet until my escort helped me along!"

Tamara has done an incredible job remodeling an old Jaguar by herself. Tamara would like to become a lawyer, and her long-term goal is to become President of the United States.

She's got our vote.

Miss Congeniality was won by Tamara Paquette, best talent was won by Dietra Stuhlmiller. Second princess was Shelley Bennett, first princess was Tiffany Marszalkowski. All the girls received a gift and trophies.

Also attending the Miss Shrine pageant was Araba Temple Princess Vanessa Weeks. She is 16 and attends Naples High where she is a junior. She is involved in many school activities such as cheerleading, yearbook, and is the sports editor. She will soon be attending a Shrine Hospital in Greenville, South Carolina for arthritis.

Through Araba Temple, and the Shrine Club, thousands of children can enter the Shrine Crippled Children's Hospitals and Burn Centers at no cost.

It was clear that the judges were going to have a difficult time deciding who would be the new queen as Tamara Paquette, Dietra Stuhlmiller, Tiffany Marszalkowski, Shelly Bennett, Terry McGee and Melinda Kay Flood were escorted on stage for the competition.

While the contestants prepared for the talent competition, the audience was entertained by the D.C. Repertory Company.

The talent competition displayed talent in dance, gymnastics, singing, and a recitation. The reigning queen, Janet Poole, performed 2 solo's, singing "The Theme from Ice Castles," and "Out Here On My Own."

After the swim suit competition, Miss Naples Shrine 1979, Elizabeth Wilson Shaffer recited a beautiful poem she wrote describing the Shrine Clubs cause. Eight year old Colleen Duggan's song and dance solo received royal applause.

BURGER KING CONTEST

by Tara Lanius

Lorena Dudge recently won $50 in a contest at the East Trail Burger King. Each employee was given as many coupons as desired. The employee was to write his/her name on the back of the coupon, and whoever received the most coupons back won $50. For second place there was a $25 prize, and for a consolation the next two highest won $10.

Lorena Dudge won 1st with 120 coupons, second was Art Salinas with 57. Sarah Mester had 43 and Gloria Ramos had 38 for the consolation prizes. This now plans to be a monthly contest.

PROFILE: DR. LOUIS FIELDS

by Missy Cheaney

"Some students are told they're not trying (in school). It's not that they're not trying, they can't," states Dr. Louis Fields, Ph.D. But even Albert Einstein had a learning disability, along with many famous people in history, including U.S. presidents.

Dr. Fields is a specialist in Perceptual Motor Training. He teaches children 6 years and older (through college age), who are underachievers and have learning problems. He uses no books, but instead uses challenging mental tasks, concentration, understanding, and problem solving.

Many poor students in school misbehave because "they'd rather be called bad than stupid," explained Dr. Fields. Many of his low-grades students have raised their grades to honor roll level, and have had a definite personality change. His work with the gifted is astonishing also.

Perception is when your brain tells you when to do something. Some children with perception problems see a ball coming toward them, but before their mind can tell them to catch it, the ball has fallen to their feet. The case may be more or less intense depending on the individual. The child is not necessarily physically handicapped, mentally retarded or emotionally disturbed. In the United States, 10 million children have some kind of learning distortion, and 30% have some sort of learning problem.

Dr. Fields has found that supplemental help, outside the classroom, has been an effective way to help correct the problem and lessen the emotional pressure of being different.

BOOK/MOVIE REVIEW: DEAD & BURIED

by Tara Lanius

The creators of "Alien" bring a new terror to the earth.

"He thought dead men told no tales. The murders were bad enough, but what Sheriff Dan Gillis couldn't understand were the newcomers to Potters Bluff, and their eerie resemblance to people he had seen Dead and Buried."

"He couldn't tell Janet, because even his beautiful wife was acting strangely lately. Was he imagining things? Or was something evil praying on the sleepy town of Potters Bluff, something as shadowy as the faceless killers who roamed the land."

A book. A movie. A new chilling thriller by Chelsea Quinn Yarbro.
